

PRESS RELEASE

MARCH 2022

NEW DIAPATH LAB TALKS HUB

It is a repository that includes a full range of scientific articles, webinars, training resources, blogs, podcasts and interviews with Opinion Leaders and experts in the field of Anatomic Pathology, Histology and Cytology.

The main purpose is to create a community of pathologists and laboratory professionals where they can share and exchange smart ideas, best practices and scenarios with other professionals and keep updated with the latest scientific developments in Anatomic Pathology.

This new platform has five sections to discover. In addition to the company presentation section that links directly to the website, there is also a section dedicated to scientific articles, where you can find a collection of recent studies that include Diapath solutions and more. You can also select the year, month and Diapath product on which you want to read the latest news.

Another section deals with webinars, where you can find the calendar of upcoming webinars and register to preview the content. It is also possible to review the content published in the on-demand training resources section, where a simple login allows you to watch past webinars on-demand as many times as you like.

The fourth section is dedicated to blogs where you can find publications organised in categories and you can select the topic you are interested in and interact with other members of the Diapath Lab Talks community. Twice a month, new articles will be published in the fields of Histology, Anatomic Pathology and Diagnostics. To access, simply enter your credentials. The laboratory routine needs to share experiences and bright ideas.

The last section is the podcast section where you can listen to all Diapath podcasts organised in categories. Simply log in with your credentials and enjoy. These consist of interviews with authors, opinion leaders and experts on the latest developments in science, technology and pathology.

Finally, it is important to note that Diapath is accredited by NSH as a training provider and the participation in each webinar entitles you to 1 CEU.

---

INFO
www.diapath.com/press

Laura Vavassori
Tel. +39 3283749303
marketing@diapath.com

---